The Lovers of Teruel, 1217

From the 18th to the 21st of February 2016, the ending of the legend of the Lovers of Teruel ("the most beautiful love story ever told") will take place in Teruel. In 2016, we will also celebrate the 20th edition of this event.

17 000 people in period clothing, 5000 doing their tasks around tents and camps, recreating the atmosphere of the XIIIth century and 400 actors giving life to the legend of the Lovers. Thanks to the wedding of Isabel, concerts, exhibitions, leisures, markets, theatrical plays and other activities for all ages transformed Teruel into a true destination for history-lovers. During these days, Teruel turns into the genuine medieval city it was before.

The Legend

Teruel. XIIIth century. Isabel de Segura and Diego de Marcilla loved each other since their common childhood. But the young man wasn't rich, turning their love into an impossible relation.

Diego obtained a period of five years so he could enrich himself by fighting battles. On the very day this deadline ended, Diego was back to the city but it was too late. Isabel married Pedro de Azagra, brother of the Lord of Albarracín.

He looked for Isabel, desperate. He wanted to see her, to ask her for a kiss before going on. But despite her love, she refused to do so, claiming that she was already married with another man.

The young man could not stand this situation and died. The following day, during the funerals, a veiled woman appeared. It was Isabel de Segura, broken by the pain, who wanted to give her lover the kiss Diego desired so much.

By kissing her love, she also died upon his corpse.

According to the tale, they were killed by love. They were buried together and remained so until nowadays.
